Wave

The stages are consisted of 10 Waves.

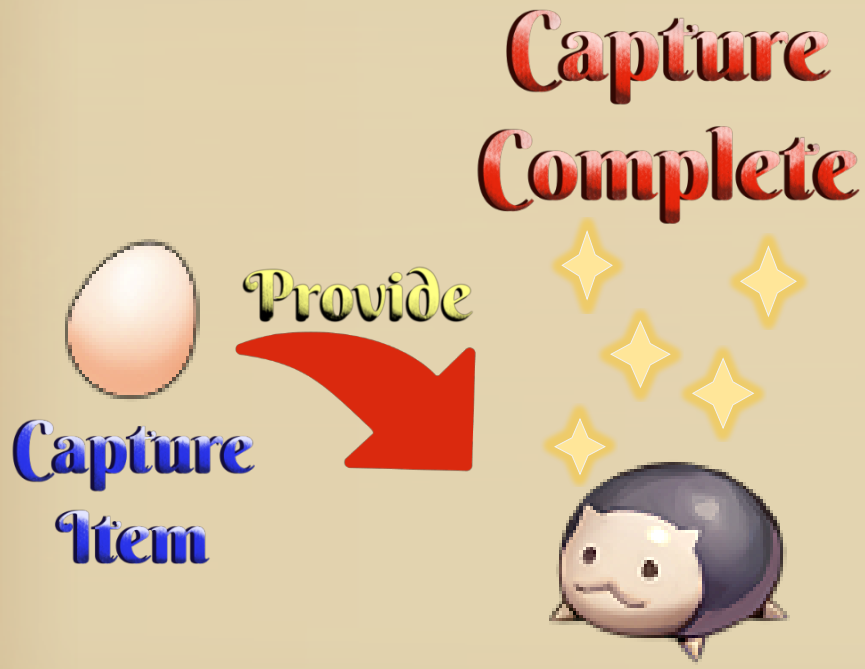

While the Wave proceeds, users can capture and domesticate wild monsters, gather items, and construct building.

After Wave starts to proceed, the cat warriors start to attack later on.

The longer Wave is proceeded, the more powerful cat warriors come out.

That is the time when the user's decision is required for effective defence.

Capture

There are wild monsters all over the map.

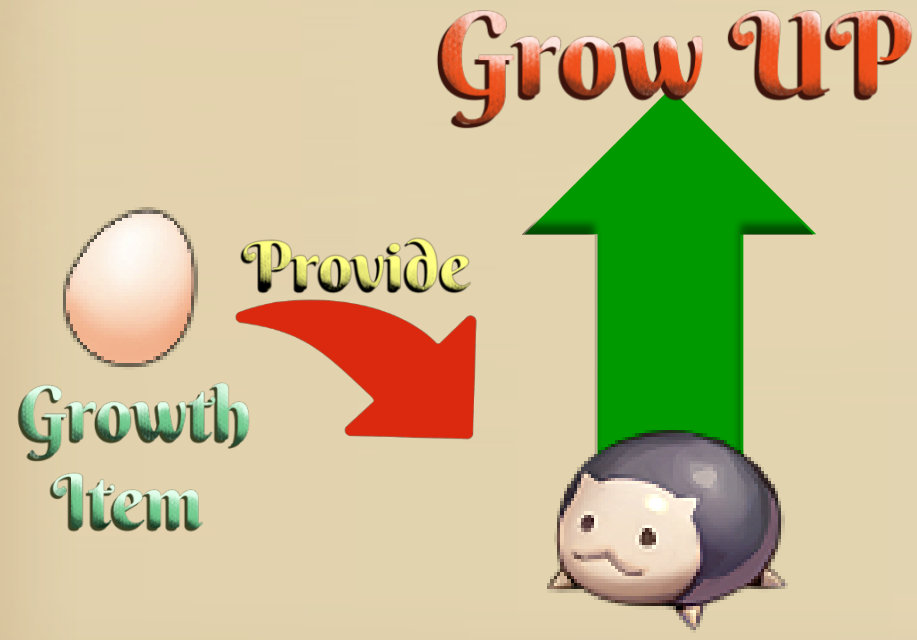

In order to make a wild monster a colleague, users have to provide the item that the monster requires.

The items monster requires differ from each other.
Therefore, it is important for users to realize what item each monster requires to be a collegue.

If there is a specific item monster requires, please approach to the monster and hand it over.

This is how capture is progressed.

Growth

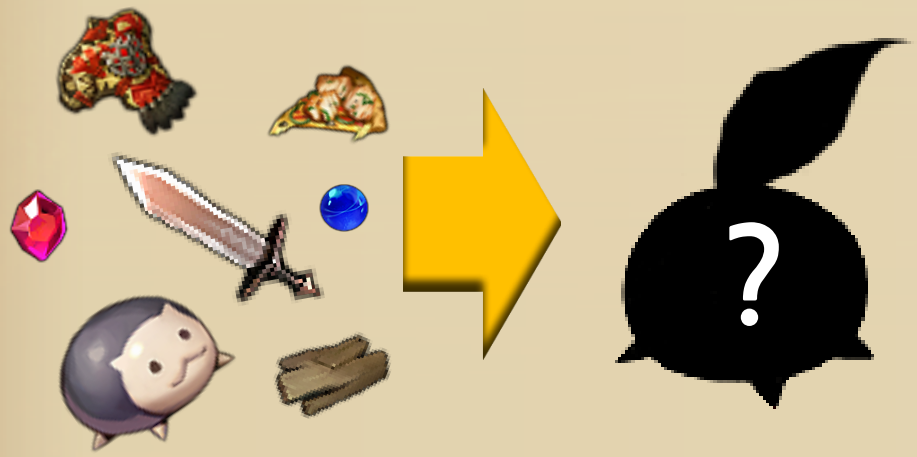

There are several ways to strengthen the monsters.

Users can strengthen their monsters through growth and better fight with cat warriors.

Monster growth is available through 'monster detail' pop up, after interacting with collegue monster.

The items required changes depending on the growth value, so check and reserve them in advance.

Evolution

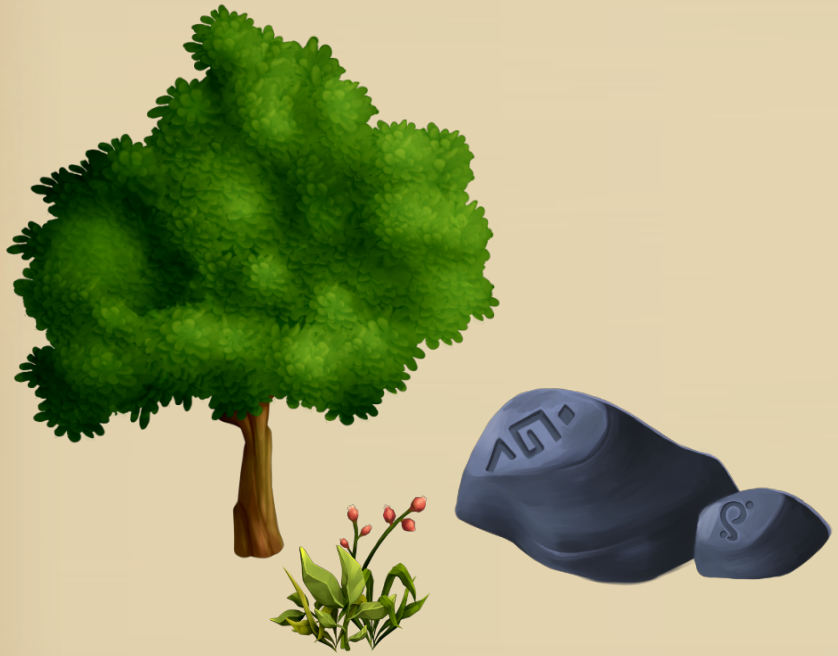

Fully grown monsters can develop into more powerful one through 'evolution'.

Users can conduct evolution by using specific items required and get a new monster with much more power.

As there are some monsters that are used as an ingredient for other monster's evolution, we recommend users to check each item required for individual monsters beforehand.

Gathering

Users can acquire items for monster’s growth and construction through ‘Gathering’.

There are 'seeds, ores, and weeds’ at the background and users can collect them by approaching and gathering them.

Items acquired through gathering are also used to create higher items through processing.

Active gathering will be a key activity to conquer Monstopia.

Construction

Users can 'construct' buildings by using items collected through battle and gathering.

The speed of construction will be an essential key to fight against cat warriors because each building has its own intrinsic capability.

※ Intrinsic Capabilities of Buildings ※

1. Jade's Store : Number of monster user can possess / fixed (irrelevant to upgrade)
2. Monster House : Increase the number of monster user can possess
3. Bunker : (when monsters invade) Attack cat warriors (ranged attack)
4. Monster's Restaurant : Produce food items for monster's growth
5. Monster's Workshop : Produce items for monster's growth and construction.

Users can play the game efficiently through rapid growth so develop your ability through building upgrades.

Battle

While the Wave proceeds, the cat warriors start to attack later on.

Use monsters to fight against the enemies.

Therefore, it is recommended to capture and raise monsters as fast as possible before the enemies come out.

※ Tip
1. Monsters can be protect themselves by fighting behind a protective wall.
2. Nocturnal monsters can be an additional help during the battle.
