Photosensitive seizure warning

Some people may experience photosensitive seizures or a loss of consciousness when they encounter certain kinds of visual stimulation in day-to-day life, such as flickering lights or luminous patterns. Such people also risk experiencing seizures when watching TV or playing video games. This can also happen without any previous history of related health problems or symptoms of epilepsy.

The following symptoms are characteristic of photosensitive seizures: blurred vision, twitching eyes or face, trembling arms or legs, a feeling of disorientation, confusion, or a temporary loss of orientation. During a photosensitive seizure, loss of consciousness or convulsions can lead to serious injury, as the symptoms often begin with a fall. Stop playing immediately if you notice any of the symptoms described above. It is strongly advised that parents supervise their children while they play video games, and children and young adults are often more sensitive to photosensitive seizures than adults.

If you show any of these symptoms, STOP PLAYING THE GAME IMMEDIATELY AND SEEK MEDICAL ATTENTION. Parents and guardians should supervise children and ask them if they have experienced one or more of the above symptoms.

Introduction

The city of Newport Falls belongs to the criminal organization IMPERIO. The members of this group spread fear and terror and held the once picturesque Newport Falls in a stranglehold of organized crime. For a long time, the police had nothing to oppose this power and IMPERIO was free to do as it pleased. Until one day a wily police officer, John Croft, appeared on the scene. Together with his taskforce, he was able to put a stop to this syndicate's deeds bit by bit. But just before he could arrest the leader, he and his organization disappeared without trace. John Croft, the hero and father of a young boy was found dead a short time later. There were two bullets in his chest. But the case was never solved. IMPERIO disappeared and the city blossomed and developed magnificently – but only for a short time because IMPERIO is back and more dangerous than ever before.

Tipps and Tricks

Welcome to Police Tactics! This tips and tricks guide will get you through the basics of the game and prepare you for your new assignment: Chief of Police.

To move around the city quickly you can use a wide range of police vehicles. Usually your officers will arrive quicker at the scene when using a patrol car.

From time to time crimes are committed - we can't avoid that. These crimes reduce the sense of safety in the neighborhood. High safety grants us more income and the favor of the city council. You can view the safety levels by opening the strategic view. As you can see the buildings in your district are now colored as an indication to their safety levels. Green means high, while Red means low safety.

To regain the trust of our citizens we have to show our presence to them. We can achieve this by setting up patrol routes around the city. Patrolling units increase safety in their near vicinity. You can setup patrols via the strategic view.

You can create Patrol routes for officers on foot, with patrol helicopters or patrol cars. All of these patrols have advantages and disadvantages. Choose wisely.

If you have any number of officers selected and you move your mouse over the icon it will show the strength of your selection and the force ratio against the criminals at the bottom of the icon. This way you know when you have enough policemen to take the perps down.

Be warned that in some cases the criminals won't give up, or will try to escape!

If the perpetrators have already left the scene there is still a chance to catch them though. You'll have to use Investigators and Detectives to gather evidence and find the perps.

When a room in your Headquarters has reached its maximum capacity you can increase capacity via an upgrade. Upgrading your department allows you to hire more specialized officers and purchase more vehicles. Upgrades usually unlock while playing the story missions.

You'll get rated by the City Council depending on your performance. The better you do the more money you'll receive from the city.

You are rewarded with Reputation points when you successfully solve a case. Points are also deducted if you fail to solve a crime. These points are turned into additional funding at the end of the day. Your current amount is visible at the top-center of the screen.

Story missions are special crimes or chains of crimes which advance the story when solved. Story missions also unlock vehicles and upgrades.

You can neutralize speeding areas, which will occur from time to time by fining fast vehicles. You can do this by obtaining a Speeding Camera Van.

COP'S DELIGHT

Ingredients:

200 grams of milk curd
20 tablespoons of milk
8 tablespoons of oil
120 grams of sugar
2 packages vanilla sugar
400 grams of flour
8 tablespoons of baking powder
4 tablespoons of lemon juice
Grease (for the pan or donut maker)
Donut baking sheet or donut maker

Step 1: Put quark, milk, oil, sugar and vanilla sugar together in a bowl and knead it until they form a homogeneous mass. Combine flour and baking powder and add it to the mass. Keep kneading until you have a perfect dough.

Step 3:

Bake in the pre-heated oven, mid-height, at 180°C top and bottom heat (or 160 ° convection oven) for 20 - 25 minutes. Or rely on the donut makers instructions. Directly after baking, remove the donuts from the baking sheet to cool down. Once the dough is cooled down mix icing sugar and lemon juice for the icing. If you prefer cherry or strawberry juice you can use this as well. If you are a really tough cop than you can also use liquid chocolate as icing serve it with little chocolate pieces on it.

Step 2:

Prepare the donut maker or baking sheet. Use the grease in order to prepare them for the dough. Fill the dough in an icing bag with a star nozzle and use it to fill the dough in the donut maker or the baking sheet until each donut cavity is half filled. The dough will rise during the baking process. Once finished put the baking sheet in the oven.
